People Are Urged to Buy Christmas Seals

The Nodaway County Tuberculosis Association announces two methods of reaching their quota of $1,200 from the sale of Christmas Seals this year, according to Leslie G. Somerville, county president and County Superintendent of schools.

One of the methods is to sell through the school children of the county. Each pupil is being asked to sell as large a number of seals as possible. Each school is also being asked to prepare and give a program in which the Christmas Seal is made the dominating feature, sometime between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The other method of sale is through local leaders, who are not necessarily connected with the schools, in the several towns in the county. These leaders will make personal solicitations of the business and professional men, the several organizations and societies of the community, and from these sources a large amount of seals are expected to be purchased.

The plan of the Christmas Seal and what is accomplished is a wonderful work in the nation, the state and the country, according to Mr. Somerville. "Tuberculosis is a curable disease," continued Mr. Somerville, "The pity of it is that so few people realize the cure and fail to take the necessary steps to cure the dreaded disease in its early stages. Through the influence of the Christmas Seal a very definite decrease in the death rate from tuberculosis has been effected. In 1917 the death rate per 100,000 was 167, which appalling rate was reduced to 87 in 1927, ten years later. Not only do the pennies derived from the sale of the Cheery Christmas Seals give definite assistance in effecting the cure, but they furnish the means for the distribution of educational literature giving instruction for prevention as well as cure. Our clinics in Nodaway County have reached a large number of people who probably would not otherwise have had the benefit of expert medical advice."

The Nodaway County Tuberculosis Association is affiliated with the National and State Associations. The funds available for the promotion of education and clinics and relief in this county are derived solely from the sale of the Christmas Seals, the local Association retaining 80 per cent of the funds raised in this county for use here.

Fellowship Banquet Will Be Held Soon

The International Fellowship Banquet of the Student Y. M. C. A. will be held Monday night, December 15, in one of the churches of the city. Students of the College and citizens of the community are invited. Tickets will be sold by Y. M. C. A. members.

It is probable the speaker will be Clark Eichelberger of Chicago, Ill., secretary of the American Association of the League of Nations, who has spent many months in Europe and was also the American observer of the League activities at Geneva. Mr. Eichelberger is well-informed on international affairs and is a forceful public speaker.

One of the features of the banquet will be the reading of greetings from various members of the foreign diplomatic corps at Washington, a letter from the British Ambassador to the League of Nations, who has been received from H. H. Prince Albert de Ligne, the Belgian Ambassador to this country, Representative "Y" members will read the letters.

Torches of international friendship will be lighted from two torches brought from Europe in 1927 by George Walter Allen, president of the Y. M. C. A., who attended two international conferences of older boys, one in Windsor Castle, Royal Forest, England, and Renzo Bennett, Burlington Junction; the other at Camp Sigilat, near Budapest, Hungary.

Mr. Homer T. Phillips, Coach Henry Ibs and President Uel W. Lamkin attended the meeting of the M. I. A. A. officials from Maryville.

Sir Philip Ben Greet Players Are to Appear

Greatest of All Shakespearean Play Producers and Internationally Known Actor, With All-English Cast, Coming.

Sir Philip Ben Greet and his company of English Players will appear at the College Auditorium on Thursday, December 9, in "Hamlet," one of Shakespeare's best plays, at 8:00 o'clock.

Shakespeare is supreme—the joyousness, happiness, and thrill usually experienced by the intelligent onlooker when witnessing one of the Immortal Bard's masterpieces still remains as the zenith of dramatic art.

Thousands of theatre goers readily recall some of the fine scenes they have been fortunate enough to witness presented by an actor of reputation—it is an indelible memory never to be eradicated, and how proud they seem to be when reminiscing on the subject—it might have been Irving, Mansfield, Robert B. Mantell, Sothern and Marlowe, Booth or Barrett—the actor's art remains as a cameo in life's daily adventure; and it is with this thought uppermost in mind that the announcement is made of Ben Greet's forthcoming visit to Maryville with his Company of English Players in "Hamlet."

Such an opportunity as this is rarely given the patron of the classic drama to revel in the very best that the theatre offers, and from all indications the public is going to respond most heartily. Sir Philip Ben Greet is returning to America by insistent demand of leading Universities and Cities that had him last season, and by those who wanted his Company but were unable to secure it. He is bringing a carefully selected and personally directed company of English actors whose first concern are faultless diction, absolute reverence for the text, and high regard for the prevailing spirit of the story.

Sir Philip creates an essential atmosphere of medieval reverence. Nothing detracts from the play's significance. His only modifications of the true Elizabethan manner is in the use of richer and more elaborate hangings than were employed in the Elizabethan days. The simplicity of his productions is based on the theory that the stage should stimulate and inspire rather than re-serve the imagination. Sir Philip has schooled his actors in the forgotten art of speaking words. When his actors speak, it is easy to understand the words and sense of what is spoken.

For fifty years Ben Greet has been presenting Shakespeare and the classics to countless thousands and it is undoubtedly this reason which prompted His Majesty, King George the Fifth, to convey the highest honor an actor can receive in England, a Knighthood, in recognition of his splendid public service.

Imbued by the dynamic force of personality in the writing of all his plays, sweeping the beholder along with breathless excitement to some great climax, Shakespeare, the Immortal Bard, remains inimitable. There is nothing more enjoyable in the theatre than an evening spent watching one of his masterpieces, they are bound to give satisfaction to the most blasé patron, for some familiar quip or quotation will suddenly strike the ear and the modern simile is instantly recognized.

It is with this thought uppermost in mind that the announcement of the coming engagement of Sir Philip Ben Greet and his Company of English Players in "Hamlet" should be greatly appreciated by the host of lovers of the classical drama.

31 M.I.A.A. Football Schedule Is Given

The 1931 conference football schedule for the Bears was arranged Saturday, November 29, at a meeting of the five college officials assembled in St. Louis.

Springfield will play at Maryville on October 8; Maryville will play at Cape Girardeau on October 16; Kirksville will play at Maryville on November 11, and Maryville will play Warrensburg on Thanksgiving.

This is a change in the arrangements which have been prevalent for several years, the Bears and Kirksville Bulldogs having met on Thanksgiving, alternating between Maryville and Kirksville.

Mr. Homer T. Phillips, Coach Henry Ibs and President Uel W. Lamkin attended the meeting of the M. I. A. A. officials from Maryville.

H. S. THOMAS
Superintendent of schools at Maryville and new President of the Northwest Missouri District Teachers Association.

Basketeers Get Underway for 1930-31 Season

Strenuous Practice for Heavy Schedule Started December 1. If Successful, May Play in National Meet.

The Bearcat basketball team got down to strenuous practice Monday afternoon in an effort to prolong the unbroken string of victories run up last season when the M. I. A. A. champions copped thirty-one games in a row.

The first game of the season will be Dec. 8, when the Trulock Motors of Northboro, Iowa, come here. From Dec. 8 until January 8, a full month, all of the Bearcat games will be at home. In these home games, of which there are twelve, Maryville fans will see the Southeastern Oklahoma Teachers from Durant in two games, the Northwestern Rangers from Alva, Okla., in two games, and the Colorado, Pittsburgh, Emporia Teachers and the Southwestern College quintet in one game each.

The Southeastern Teachers played two very close games with the Bearcats last year, and Maryville barely nosed them out. The Rangers are from the Alva Teachers College and went to the semi-finals in the tournament at Winfield, Kan., last year. They have always played in the National Tournament until last year, and have the same club as in 1929.

The Pittsburg game here on Dec. 31 promises to be one of the best games of the season, for Pittsburg was the champion of the Kansas Teachers Colleges last year. Emporia and Southwestern of Winfield will also provide plenty of competition for the Bearcats.

Coach Ibs said that the reason for the first twelve games being played here was to get the boys in shape at home rather than on the road. Teams which the Bearcats will play away from home will be pointing for the Bearcats, and Coach Ibs wants his men to be in shape when they play.

On Jan. 8, the Bearcats go to Winfield to play Southwestern, the team they defeated in the finals of the tournament at Winfield last year. This game is the first of a seven-game road trip in which Springfield and Warrensburg are to be encountered in M. I. A. A. conference games.

On Feb. 14 the Bearcats go to St. Louis to play the Concordia Seminary team. This team, although it is not well

Winter Quarter Will Bring Much Activity

The fall quarter has ended, the students have returned from the Thanksgiving holidays, and the winter quarter has opened with a variety of activities in sight to keep the students and teachers busy for the next three months.

Several events are on the calendar for the weeks between now and the Christmas holidays, which according to the College catalog calendar are only sixteen days away. The non-conference basketball season will open December 8, when the Trulock Motors of Northboro, Iowa, will play at the gymnasium. The major entertainment of the winter quarter will be on December 8 with the appearance of the Ben Greet Players in a Shakespearean drama. The Forensic Union will be represented this Friday and Saturday in the debate tournament at Winfield, Kan., held under the auspices of Southwestern College.

A coaching school for basketball players, coaches, and officials is planned for December 17, and the S. T. C. Alumni Council is planning for another Maryville Chamber of Commerce and State Legislators meeting here soon.

These debaters, selected a few days before Thanksgiving vacation, will be: Dale Missildine, Marvin Shambarger, Wilbur Pettigrew, Lowell Galt and Jerome Smith.

The purpose of this tournament, in which some eighty schools are expected to participate, is to give coaches and debaters a preliminary and working knowledge of this year's debate rules before the presentation of excerpts from the "Mephisto." At the present time it is planned that the College band will give a part of the Maryville program to be given from Henry Fields' radio station at Shenandoah, Iowa, this Friday evening at 9:00 o'clock. These are some of the early events to say nothing of the countless things which will occur after the Christmas holidays.

The quarter has been very successful. The assembly programs have been of a high character. Probably the four outstanding speakers were Viljam Steffanson, Arctic explorer; who gave a series of addresses; Dr. Burris A. Jenkins, Kansas City clergyman, who gave the Armistice Day address; Dr. Hamilton P. Cady, head of the chemistry department at the University of Kansas, who gave a liquid air demonstration, and Dr. Louis A. Pechstein of the University of Cincinnati. Two other highlight speakers were Dr. C. H. Oldfield of the University of Nebraska, and Haig Arklin, artist and critic.

Science Instructor Is Native of Ohio

Dr. Robert W. Edmiston, who is now assisting Mr. M. W. Wilson in the chemistry department of the College, came from Wapakoneta, Ohio. According to Dr. Edmiston the name Wapakoneta, is the name of an old Indian chief Wapa and his wife Koneta. At this town, Mr. Edmiston attended grade school and was graduated from the Blume high school there.

Dr. Edmiston received his A. B. degree from Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, in 1916 and during the two years that he was in College there he was assistant instructor in chemistry. After 1916 he taught mathematics for two years in Blume High School in his home town.

During the World War Dr. Edmiston was stationed at Edgewood Arsenal at Edgewood, Maryland, where he helped to make war gas. After the War he became principal of the high school at Clina, Ohio, which is the county seat of Mercer county, Ohio.

In 1921, Mr. Edmiston took his M. A. Degree at Ohio State University at Columbus and then he went to Central High School at Lima, Ohio, as chairman of the science department, during which he held for seven years. During the last two years that Dr. Edmiston was at Lima, he was also guidance director in the Central High School, which has an enrollment of 2000 students.

As last year, the game was played in the bitter cold with freezing north wind blowing, and a light snow falling. Most of the players on both teams had a hard time keeping warm and several of them wore gloves to try to keep their hands warm. The Bearcats were forced to resort to forward passes after the Bulldogs had scored two touchdowns, but the wind made this form of attack largely ineffective.

Kirksville received the kickoff on their own 20-yard line and returned it to the 35-yard line before being stopped. They then took the ball down the field on four successive first downs, to the 5-yard line. Here the Bearcats held for three downs, but Hatcher, 150 pounds of dynamite, passed over the goal line to Dougherty. "Dutch" Overmier broke thru to block Hatcher's try for the extra point, and the score was 6 to 0 in favor of the Bulldogs.

Kirksville kicked off to John Smith on the 20-yard line, and he returned to the 34-yard line before being tackled. The Bearcats tried the line but to no avail, and Fischer punted fifty yards to Kirksville's 14-yard line. Kirksville could not gain and attempted to punt, but Maryville broke thru and blocked it, recovering on the 24-yard line. The Bearcats lost two yards on an attempt.

COLLEGE OATH

"We will make no being disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will not be afraid to speak our minds and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

NEWS
We are now starting on a new quarter at the College and there will be many things to command our interest. Of course there are many events that we will have to miss, but we can keep pace with all the College activities by reading our College paper.

The "Northwest Missourian" is the official publication of the students, by the students, and for the students of this College. It should contain all the news of the College.

News is an event of interest to people, and the best news is that which holds the greatest interest for the greatest number of people. News, to be of interest, should be written as soon as possible after the event has happened. In doing this, it will insure an interesting story which will contain all the facts.

Each organization of the College should have a reporter for the "Missourian." It should be the duty of this reporter to see to it that anything of interest be promptly written up and turned in to the editor. In this way the editor can plan his work ahead. He can make a more interesting paper for the entire College and at the same time give the organization deserving publicity.

The "Missourian" will be what we make it! Let's make it the best College paper in the state. We can if we will, each do our bit by writing up any news promptly and accurately and handing it to the editor.—M. L. G.

INTERNATIONALISM

The only way to keep peace is to educate people in the ways of peace. Since the last great world conflict the nations of the world have been seeking agencies that will best assure a lasting peace. The youth of the world have played an important role in the promotion of peace ideals through international correspondence, conferences, camps, and through countless organized societies. The young men and women of the world do not want to see another universal slaughter of human lives such as the youth suffered only a few years ago. There is not a better time to begin talking peace, working out practical systems, and upholding the highest ideals of home, school, and church life than right now. Build peace, and maintain peace. On December 16 an International Fellowship Banquet, sponsored by the Student Y. M. C. A., will be held. Those who will gather around the banquet table will be there to think upon the achievement of other nations, and to pledge themselves to do all in their power to promote internationalism and to help keep the ideals of peace high. Students of the College, who are to be the men and women of tomorrow, who will have the world-wide, complex problems to meet and in their own way, according to the ideals they have built during their education, must think and act upon matters of peace without delay. Build peace, and maintain peace.—G. W. A.

THE COMMON COLD

"The common cold causes far more loss of time than any other disease or condition," says Surgeon General Hugh C. Cumming, of the United States Public Health Service, in an article in the November 1930 "Journal of the National Education Association," urging teachers to protect childhood from a scourge that is frequently followed by rarer respiratory diseases such as bronchitis or broncho-pneumonia. "The lighting up of a tuberculosis process may follow a cold. It is not meant that a common cold is the cause of tuberculosis."

Announcements

The Alumni Association of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College cooperating with the Maryville Chamber of Commerce is planning a program of conferences and round table discussion of State problems to which each Senator and Representative of Northwest Missouri is invited as a guest. This meeting will be held at the State Teachers College at Maryville, Missouri on Monday, December 15, between the hours of 10:00 A. M. and 4:00 P. M. The conferences are to be conducted by those officially connected in some way with our state government or some department thereof.

losis; but a severe cold may activate or awaken a quiescent case," says Surgeon General Cumming. "Thus a common cold may at times be a menace to life."

Surgeon General Cumming describes the cold as the most costly of all diseases because of the great amount of time which is lost by sufferers from colds. A survey of the Public Health Service showed colds the most common cause of illness and of time lost from school, approximately 50 per cent of the absence of pupils being due to respiratory conditions, about half of which were colds.

The retarding effect of absence on school progress was indicated in the fact that the days lost per child per year were 43 percent higher in the group whose school work was only fair, poor, or very poor than among those whose work was good or excellent.

Surgeon General Cumming urges that children be excluded from school upon showing the first symptoms of a cold as a safeguard against those who are not affected. "One child may be infected from another by receiving the spray or secretion from a cough or sneeze. The hands of a child with a cold are practically sure to be infected, and the infection will be conveyed to articles he handles and other hands touches. It is important that no contact, direct or indirect, between the sick and well children should be allowed.

"Some of the best brains in the country are investigating this so-called 'common' disease," says Surgeon General Cumming. "In spite of its apparent simplicity, it has long succeeded in eluding all seekers after its specific causative agent." He says that while an announcement was made a few months ago of the discovery of an organism said to be responsible for colds, only time and further tests can determine the truth of this claim.—Journal of the N. E. A.

POEM

(With apologies to Kipling)
When the last Exam is taken
And the ink is blotted and dried,
When the last term paper is finished
And all low grades received,
We shall rest and, faith, we shall need it
To sleep for a morning or two
Till the first of another quarter
Sets us to work anew.
Those who made good grades shall be happy,

And each in his favorite crowd
Can whisper how he made them
If he doesn't talk too loud.

We shall have a new course to choose
From French and English and Math.
If we choose electives wisely,
We can avoid the advisor's wrath.
And only Proxy shall praise us;
And only Proxy shall blame;
And no one shall study for money,
And no one shall study for fame,
But each, for the joy of studying,
And each for the joy of the race
Shall study the subject before him
To win the highest place.—B. J. W.

High School Prizes

The Commission on Interracial Cooperation, with headquarters at 703 Standard Bldg., Atlanta, Georgia, announces the offer of a cash prize of $100 for the high school pupil submitting the best paper on "America's Tenth Man," and a prize of like amount for the school making the best use of the Commission's "Tenth Man" project. The contest is open to all pupils of high schools and junior high schools in the fifteen Southern States. It closes April 1, 1931. Full information and a 5000-word booklet of source material will be furnished free to any interested, according to the Commission, and correspondence is invited from high school principals, teachers, and pupils.

The announced purpose of these prizes is to encourage as widely as possible the study of the Negro's part in American history, in the belief that this will be helpful to the children of both races, promoting more intelligent attitudes on the one side and wholesome race pride on the other. More than 150 high schools participated in a similar project last year, and several thousand papers were prepared by students. The project, it is said, has met with general approval on the part of Southern educators.

This project will be run here, according to Mr. Mehus. Address as given above and in care of R. B. Eble, Educational Director.

State H. S. Secretary Sends Information

The Institute of International Education has awarded first prize to a German exchange student whose paper was on "What America Taught Me." The paper declares at first that "the American does not exist." "But now," the essay went on, "I begin to understand these nationalities of all European countries working together in the United States without quarreling more with each other than with anyone else—it is only natural to ask why they cannot behave like that at home... a natural conclusion, consciously or unconsciously drawn, leads to the same idea: Why do they get along so well together here, do they not get along in Europe?"—An answer to which would settle most European difficulties.

Coach Iba said also that a game will probably be played sometime in January with the Wichita Henry's, national champions last year. Howard Iba, captain of the Bears last year and a brother of Coach Iba, is one of the players on the Henry Team. To be placed on the card of the national championship may be considered an honor for the Bears.

With nine lettermen from last year's team definitely back, Coach Iba has a nucleus around which to build a team for this year. These men are H. Fischer, Wilbur Staleup, Jack McCracken, Merle Taylor, Elmo Wright, Robert Dowell, Ryland Milner, Clarence Iba and Ted Hodgkinson.

In addition to these lettermen are several new players who are showing up nicely. They are, Bernard Cowden, Oklahoma City youth who played with the Crips Bakery team last year; Dale St. John, Bigelow; Joseph O'Connor, Maloy, In.; Edwin Polley, Dolph, In.; George Holmes, Weston; Joseph Fitzgerald, Easton; Tom Morick, Oklahoma City; George Adams, Blockton, In.; John Liale, Easton; Stewart Sheldon, Oklahoma City; Harold Sheetz, Trenton; and Jerome Needy, Sedalia.

Altogether, Coach Iba has twenty-five or thirty men who have been working out under his direction for the last three weeks. Now that the football season is over, several who have been out for football will join the basketball ranks. These are Fischer, R. Dowell, Staleup, Milner, W. Dowell and H. Overmier. Overmier is another Sedalia youth and is expected to make a good man for a forward position.

Coach Iba said that no visitors will be allowed at the practice sessions. He said that he did not mind people watching his team work out, but that he believed that the boys were sensitive to correction before an audience, and would not react as well if there was an audience.

Iba said that the complete schedule of games would be about thirty in all, and that eighteen of these games will be played at Maryville. He said that he would have enough substitutes to play this many games, and still not wear the boys down.

In regard to the entrance of the Bears in the National Tournament at Kansas City, Coach Iba said that they would be entered if his boys got off to a good start, and continued on thru the rest of the season.

The Schedule

waste, and futility should be pointed out.

The tremendous waste of war must be stressed. Our country has already spent fifty-two billions of dollars for the World War. Today the nations of the world are spending annually nearly four billions of dollars for militarism.

In the United States over 70 per cent of the federal income is spent for war purposes; the same is true in England and France. But Sweden uses only 20 per cent of her national taxes for war purposes and can accordingly, devote the major part of her tax money for schools, hospitals, roads, and aid for unemployed.

Mr. Mehus said that an international outlook must be developed in our schools. Modern communication has brought the whole world close together. We cannot keep aloof from the other sections of the world even if we so desire. We tried it in 1914, but we failed. We should enter the World Court at the first step. If the Senate were allowed to vote on the World Court at the short session we would enter by a vote of 75 to 21, Mr. Mehus declared. If the vote is not taken until after March 4 it will carry by 78 to 18, he prophesied.

Books which tell the truth about war should be read by High School students. Mr. Mehus recommended "All Quiet on the Western Front," by Eric Remarque; "Journey's End," by Sheriff; "No Hard Feelings," by John L. Barkley of Holden, Missouri; "Soldiers Marching," by Theodore Frodenburg; and "Sergeant Grischa," by Zwey.

A large and brilliant gathering greeted the sterling performance of "Hamlet" at the Lyric last night. It was a deeply interesting and richly rewarding reading of this Shakespearean tragedy. There were more curtain calls at the end of the play than we recall at any previous presentation of "Hamlet."—Richmond, Va. News-Letter, January 10, 1930.

College Instructor Gives Peace Address

O. Myking Mehus of the Social Science faculty at the College gave an address before the Parent-Teachers Association at Gower on Tuesday evening, November 25, on the subject, "Training for World Peace."

In his address, Mr. Mehus emphasized the importance of giving the children a true picture of war, because the boys and girls who are in school today do not remember the horrors of the last war. Instead of picturing war as a glorious adventure we should tell of its brutality. War should be painted as ugly, vile, and sinful. Its stupidity,

The Stroller

By T. T. T.

The Stroller wants someone to go in and get his last quarter's grades for him. It seems they won't let him have them for some time, for some unknown reason. Sometimes the Stroller thinks that the College is sorta life-like, after all, for it seems that one has to earn everything he gets, and then fight to get everything he earns. That is, if he really tries to earn things by fair means.

Now of course the Stroller supposes that if he had a gift for cheating like one of the girls taking the final chemistry exam claimed she has when consulted by the instructor as to certain actions on her part during the examination, perhaps life would grow more rosy for him, and college more delightful and nature more grand. Ah! Naughty, Naughty!

Nevertheless the Stroller has it from psychology and the Bible and also from history, if history repeats itself, that the cheaters and the would-be cheaters have their ups and downs, their worries and plottings to grind out, and sooner or later usually stub their toes when slipping in late, run on the rocks while floating down stream, or step out and step on thorns. Just for instance the Stroller in his time has recently heard one or two men in Maryville who have been known to boast of "not cracking a book" while in College, bemoaning the hard times and wishing that they had cracked a few more books passed a few more exams, and stayed in College a little longer. So the Stroller has come back for the winter quarter at least with the idea that he is ready to take advantage of the opportunity that Mother and Dad are furnishing and study hard at least until Christmas so that Santa won't forget him. Anyway they tell the Stroller that an honest confession is good for something and that it isn't always the longest legged dog that catches on to things.

"Ah, but then"—it seems that Miss Bowman would at least make an attempt to save her English students some embarrassment by drilling them just a wee bit more for examinations if we must have them. Note the following: Miss Bowman: "In what period did King Arthur write?" Dorothy: "In the Elizabethan Period."

Say, have you read the editorials yet? There's something there of interest to all of us.

By the way, since the Stroller happens to think about it, the close of the quarter brings to some one thing, and to some, another; but to some it brings the rare treat of a private conference with President Lamkin. Now the boys at one house were quite jealous of one of their number, by the name of W. P., when he somewhat boastfully reported that he was to have a conference with the President at a certain time on a certain day. When it was learned that this certain young man was conferring with the President about $16 in library fines for which he was responsible, a conference with the President took on a somewhat different meaning to the gang.

Howo'er it may be, it seems to the Stroller that the records show approximately eight of the members of the faculty owe something like $35 in fines to the College library. Proxy, so the Stroller has it, "doesn't think that is so hot," either.

"Nobody knows the trouble I's seen" as sung by Ben Thompson and others on the way home from the Bearcat (minor) Bulldog (major) affair, probably would express fairly well the thoughts of most of the people from Maryville as well as the Bearcats themselves as they knocked off the miles on the highways leading to the oasis of Northwest Missouri after the championship game last Thanksgiving Day.

The Stroller thought Kirksville was celebrating just a little bit too soon when he arrived at the football field in Kirksville and saw nice little bon fires at various points about the field. But when that cold breeze struck him in the face for a few seconds he agreed that Longfellow was right—"Life is real and life is earnest"—to say nothing about the cold—and someone has certainly misplaced that field or broken all regulations in regard to dampers, cold breezes, orientation, or the like.

At times the old field took on the appearance of a heaving vessel, the strips of white canvas stretched on poles about the field representing the sails of the ship. And for those whose imaginations were warm enough to imagine, no doubt at time outs, quarters, and the half, they imagined themselves on the trip to the South Pole with Dick Byrd, to the extent that the gymnasium across the field and somewhat beyond the deck of the vessel took on the appearance of a huge ice berg.

It has come to the attention of the Stroller that Thomas Lawrence, College student, pianist artist, and trombonist, expressed the opinion (just after the car in which he was riding to Kirksville sped under, around and over a flock of chickens) that perhaps the gravelled highways were doing as much as anyone, single or double force or factor, to solve the tariff, farmer's troubles, and the general economic situation. He explained this by saying that the chickens could get grit free of charge from the highway and thus produce eggs without a cash lay-out on the part of the farmer for this substantial material.

ed end run, and then were penalized fifteen yards. With fourth down and 27 to go, Fischer punted out of bounds on Kirksville's 14-yard line as the quarter ended.

Kirksville returned the punt and when Maryville attempted to punt, Murphy and Maitland broke thru to block the ball just as it left Fischer's toe. Barton, Kirksville tackle, gathered it up and ran 45 yards for another touchdown. This time Hatcher's kick was good and Kirksville led, 13 to 0.

About this time Coaches Davis and Ira sent in nearly a complete new line and backfield. Kirksville kicked off to Daniels on the 5-yard line and he returned twenty-nine yards before being downed. Maryville made a first and ten, their first, after few punches at the line and the benefit of a five-yard penalty. After an exchange of punts, Maryville took the ball on the Kirksville 35-yard line. Here Milner passed to Fischer for twenty yards, and the latter raced across for a touchdown. Hatcher's try for extra point barely cleared the uprights, and the score was 13 to 7.

Shortly after the kick off and after an exchange of punts, Houser attempted a drop kick from the 35-yard line, but the kick was short, and the ball rolled over the goal line. Houser intercepted a Bearcat pass just as the gun sounded.

Between halves the spectators did everything they could to keep warm. Some got into cars, others just ran around, while some who were really ambitious built bon-fires. The two teams went to the gymnasium which is about three blocks north of the gridiron.

During the third quarter the two teams battled on almost equal terms, and when the playing time ended the ball was in mid-field. Fumbles marked the play in this quarter with both teams generally recovering the other's misplays.

After several exchanges of punts Wade intercepted one of Milner's passes on his own 40-yard line. On the next play he fumbled and "Duck" Dowell recovered. Daniels fumbled the ball after receiving a pass and then the referee made a decision which was not liked by the crowd. Several players grabbed at the ball, but finally Duck Dowell and a Kirksville man both got a hold of it. The umpire, who was near the play, said that the ball was recovered by Duck, but the referee dashed over and over-ruled the umpire, and gave the ball to Kirksville. Maryville players objected so strenuously that the referee picked the ball up and marched fifteen yards down toward the Maryville goal. Again Kirksville fumbled and Duck recovered it on Kirksville's 43-yard line. A pass made first and ten but then bevy of tacklers broke thru to nail Milner for a twelve-yard loss. With fourth and 15 to go, Milner attempted another pass as the time was getting short, but the ball was grounded.

Kirksville then took the ball on Maryville's 45-yard line. From here, Hatcher dashed off his own right tackle for 45 yards and another touchdown. His kick was good for the final point of the game. Kirksville kicked off and on the first play Maryville tried a forward pass which was intercepted. The Passing Attack in Final Quarter Gives Skunks Victory in Charity Game at Cameron, November 26.

The Maryville "Skunks" clearly out-played the Kidder Institute eleven Wednesday afternoon, November 26, in a charity game at Cameron, and won by the score of 7 to 0. Maryville scored the touchdown in the closing minutes of the fourth quarter as the result of a forward pass from Raymond Mitzel to "Gumpy" Russell.

In the backfield Phelps' plunging, and the Mitzel to Russell passing attack stood out. Eddie (Alabama) McLeod also made several nice gains and played the safety position to a nicely. In the line there were no men who stood out above the others unless they were Moore and Westfall.

The game started off with Maryville kicking off. On an end run Van Dyke made nine yards, but the Reserves held them for two downs, only to let Kidder make a first and ten on a penalty. Soon however, the Reserves held and took the ball on downs. They then started a march down the field, making three first downs in a row, only to lose the ball on a fumble.

After several exchanges of punts Kidder was forced to punt from their 25-yard line. Moore rushed in and blocked the punt, the "Skunks" recovering on the 20-yard line. Phelps made a first and ten, but McLeod fumbled and Kidder recovered on their own 5-yard line. They punted out of bounds on the 22-yard line, and the half was nearly over. A play was started and just an instant after the whistle blew sounding the end of the first half, the ball was passed to McLeod who fought his way fifteen yards over the goal, but the touch-down was not counted.

The two teams battled on even terms during the third quarter, each side making but one first down. The fourth quarter was waning when Mitzel started throwing some passes. He passed to Russell for twelve yards, and then another for ten. A few tries were made at the line, and with it fourth down and 6 to go, Mitzel passed to "Runt" for 15 yards, and Russell ran the remaining distance over the goal. Mitzel's try for extra point was good.

Maryville kicked off, for the third time during the game, and Kidder started an aerial attack in an attempt to score, but Derry intercepted a pass, and the attack was frustrated. Maryville could not gain, and punted out of bounds on Kidder's 14-yard line as the game ended.

"Woosie" Westfall rushed up and took the ball which, according to the rules, goes to the team that is victorious.

Program of Music Is Given at Assembly

Students studying in the College Conservatory of Music gave a program before an assembly of the student body of the College at the last assembly of the fall quarter.

The musical numbers included piano solos by Lillian Townsend, Beatrice Leeson and Thomas Lawrence, vocal solos by Katherine Gray and Edson Miller, a cornet solo by Carl Blackwelder, and a violin solo by Wilma Lewis. The program was well received by the students.

Pictures of Flora B. The photographs were sent in by Garland N. White, formerly of Maryville and now of Bethany, who is northwest Missouri district news correspondent for the Post-Dispatch.

ing day, 18 to 6, also appeared in the same newspaper. That team was coached by Charles (Shuck) Graham, formerly a football star and student at the State Teachers College. Bethany did not lose a game in the conference, and lost only one game during the season, that to Lamoni, Iowa, high school.
